"Unquestionably the Best Sustained
Work of the Kind in the World."
Harper's Magazine.
ILLUSTRATED.

Notions of the Press.
The ever-increasing circulation of this excellent monthly proves its continued adaptation to popular desires and needs. Indeed, when we think into how many homes it penetrates every month, we must consider it as one of the educators as well as entertainers of the public mind.—Boston Globe.

The character which this magazine possesses for variety, enterprise, artistic wealth and literary culture that has kept pace with,
if it has not led the times, should cause conductors to regard it with justifiable commendation. The Magazine has done good and will all the days of its life.—Brooklyn Eagle.

Some of the most popular of modern novels have first appeared as serials in this magazine. In all respects it is an excellent periodical, and fully deserves its great success.—

Harper's Bazar.
ILLUSTRATED.

Notions of the Press.
The Bazar is edited with a combination of taste and talent that we seldom find in any journal; and the journal itself is the organ of the great world of fashion.—Boston Traveler.

The Bazar commends itself to every member of the household—to children by droll and pretty pictures, to the young ladies by its fashion plates in endless variety, to the prudent matron by its patterns for the household, and to the mother by its tasteful designs for embroidered slippers and luxurious dressing-gowns. But the reading matter of the Bazar is equally of great excellence. The paper has acquired a wide popularity for the freest enjoyment it affords.—
N. Y. Evening Post.

In its way there is nothing like it. Fresh and trustworthy as a fashion guide, its stories and essays, its poetry and squibs, are all interesting to the mind.—Chicago Evening

SATURDAY, JUNE 3, 1876.

NEWS OF THE MORNING.

The Democratic State Convention met at St. Paul, Minnesota, on Thursday, and chose nine delegates to the National Convention. It passed a hard money and revenue tariff platform. The great majority of the convention favored Tilden for President.

The New York Herald's Washington special says that Thompson, ex-Secretary of the Interior, arrived to-day. He said he desired to ascertain what truth there is in the paragraph going the rounds of the press that Secretary Chandler intends to have him impeached and punished, and, if possible, mulcted pecuniarily for an alleged defalcation of $570,000 during his incumbency of the Interior office. He is in the best of health, and was warmly greeted by friends of ante-bellum days.

The argument on the Chinese question before the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, arranged for Thursday, did not take place, owing to Congress not being in session. Sargent and others will be heard next Tuesday, or possibly sooner.

A Washington dispatch states that yesterday afternoon the consideration of the articles of impeachment against Belknap was resumed. The accused, with Carpenter, was present, as well as the managers on the part of the House.

Accounts from the Mustang race state that Parker finished his 20th mile at 1:51 P. M. yesterday. He then took refreshments and lost ten minutes.

A Washington dispatch states that yesterday the Senate continued the nomination of Edward F. Beale to be Minister to Austria, and Charles N. Harris to be Register of the Land Office at Carson City, Nev.

The Pacific Coast Federal officials are said to be at the bottom of the movement in favor of Gov. Wood as the Republican candidate for Vice President.

Corporal Smith, on a scout from Campo, discovered in the Jacumba Valley a party of sixty mounted Mexicans, who are backing the Indians. Captain Bernard has left San Diego for Campo with his whole force, and lively times are expected.

It appears by late dispatches that Blaine's chances for the nomination by the Republicans is weakening.

A San Francisco dispatch states that at a meeting of the Eleventh Ward Chinese Club on Thursday night, a letter from Senator Sargent was read, the point of which was that the recent incendiary threats made against the Chinese is doing more than anything else to forfeit the support of Eastern people, and he urged the clubs to be "wise as serpents and harmless as doves" as the only way to accomplish anything.

The British steamer Quangse, which sailed for Hong Kong yesterday, took away about 400 Chinese.

A. T. Stewart's will is to be contested. It is alleged to have been obtained through undue influence, and the surrogate has granted an order to show cause. The probate of the will is contested on behalf of sixteen persons, claiming to be blood relatives.

Moody's Tabernacle was opened in Chicago on Thursday night, Mr. Sankey leading the singing and Mr. Moody making a brief address. It is situated on Chicago Avenue, and was commenced in 1873.

Jarrett & Palmer's last train from San Francisco arrived in Chicago on Thursday night at 10:19, being 20 minutes ahead of time.

GOVERNOR IRWIN has appointed JAMES D. FAY and H. F. CRANE of San Francisco and JOHN C. BALL of Yolo county, commissioners, under the Act of the last legislature to examine into the alleged frauds in State lands and to look after the irregularities which may have occurred in the Surveyor General's office, during the terms of office of HOUGHTON, BOST and GARDNER.

The testimony taken in the Bulletin libel suit against the Atta has brought out a large amount of evidence concerning the bank of California of a nature which enables the Pacific public to indulge in their too common habit of assuring the world after the event has transpired, that they were perfectly well aware the bank would eat up the grindstone. A vast number of our shrewd citizens are now ready to claim that they were positively certain all along that the management of the bank was terrible bad; that they knew RALSTON was squandering the money of depositors, and stockholders on every conceivable scheme of wild and unpracticable speculation and that nothing was more certain than an early suspension of the bank. Bosh, all bosh. If RALSTON were alive to-day and pursuing precisely the same policy as before his death he would have no more dirt eating toadies than the men who now say they knew all the time he was a dangerous and untrustworthy man.

An Anonymous Lie.

One still has to go from home to hear the news. A letter dated Los Angeles, May 11th, is published in the San Francisco Chronicle of May 31st, which bears the earmarks of a council pettyfogger. He attempts to explain the cause of the popularity of the Board of Public Works. The writer assumes that the Board is supported by the two influential papers of the city. The reason why those papers do so, are in the opinion of the pettyfogger as follows:

In the first place the position of the Herald is explained by the fact that that paper is the property of the men whose genius brought forth the body under consideration. They hold the lease of its building, own its presses and type and pay its employees. The Star maintained a position of neutrality until the obnoxious character of the new organization had fairly to the public indignation and produce acts at once disgraceful to law and order on the part of otherwise good citizens. Hence the necessity of newspaper white-wash became apparent, and brought the representatives of the Board into a business conference with the proprietor of the Star. Hence an opinion has gone abroad that the subgovernment tolerated upon us has the sanction and support of the people of Los Angeles.

This is good, almost as good as if it had appeared in the Express. In fact, the communication reads very much as though it had emanated from the office of that paper.

Lines of Regret.

If there is one thing we regret more than another it is our inability to so conduct the HERALD that its articles and general policy will meet the approval and endorsement of our esteemed cotemporary, the Evening Express. We have labored long and diligently; we have spent sleepless nights; we have consulted friends; we have counseled with the wise; we have conversed with the shrewd; we have struggled with every conceivable plan and theory, in the hope that we might win a passing commendation from that learned, erudite, dignified, high-toned, gilt-edged journal. We have been especially anxious for this favor, because we know that our cotemporary is edited by the wisest, ablest and most successful journalists that have ever ignored their legitimate calling to electricity and mystify like unto the love of God—journalists who have lifted numerous papers from comparative obscurity to fathomless oblivion. But, alas, there is a limit to human power, and there is a point beyond which human capability cannot reach. They will not be comforted, and in place of the much coveted approving smile the condemning frown still confronts us. The HERALD is called a "pennywise sheet," and accused of laboring to shake public confidence in the Express. We do not understand the term "pennywise sheet," but if it means a paper unlike the Express in trimming and sycophancy we have only to say all right. We are fearful that a paper which, though owing its birth and existence to the Republican party, betrayed its parent and sold out its fosterer; that filled its columns with assurances of the soundness of a bank of the stability of which it either knew nothing or deliberately lied about; that denounced the laboring masses who are taking legitimate steps for the abatement of the Chinese nuisance as "irresponsible parties," cannot reasonably urge a strong claim to public confidence. But be that claim strong or weak, we positively affirm that the throes and pains and smarting and now shaking our aguish cotemporary are due to no intentional shaking of ours. On the paper's own record it was denounced and condemned by the Anti-Chinese Club of this city. This is none of our "shaking." On the paper's own record the misinformed and deceived depositors of the collapsed bank denounce it as falsifying, public-deceiving, caper and stool-pigeon. This is none of our "shaking." By and in accordance with the Assignees' report, the paper's indebtedness to the bank is placed among the "bills receivable." If the amount cannot be received before January, or at all, so much the worse for the creditors, but it is none of our "shaking." We deplore the fact that the Express is so unwise, so inclined to trimming and so addicted to venality as to draw upon itself the condemnation of the fair-minded portion of the community, but must insist on being relieved from the responsibility of having placed it in the unpleasant position it occupies. We cannot account for the idiosyncrasy of our cotemporary in insisting that the HERALD has sunk it to the level it now occupies, unless it is true as we have heard that declining fortune drives people into a sort of blind frenzy under the effect of which they strike alike at friend and foe. We feel kindly towards the Express. We have always regarded it as a paper nearly up to mediocrity in ability, with a gutta serena of principles and kangaroo instincts, and we sincerely hope it will survive its present attack of impecuniosity and ill-temper, and ultimately attain a position approximating respectable journalism. We apply no harsh terms to our unfortunate cotemporary. One of the lessons of our youth was to deal gently with the erring, and in remembrance of that lesson we write these lines more in sorrow than in anger.

Schenck and his Disgrace.

The very violent attacks upon our late Representative at the Court of St. James have been overdue. We believe in justice on every hand, and think that while occupying the position that he did, his discretion, if worthy to occupy the place he held, should have prompted him to keep aloof from everything that appertained to speculative or political movements. There is a real influence connected with social or political position that commands or obtains popular acceptance, and the more potent it is the more sacredly should the use of it be guarded. Schenck simply forgot his official dignity, and yielded to a personal impulse which is reprehensible in the highest degree. Men are human, whether they live in the palace or a hovel as the meanest peasant. The real fact is that Schenck saw the opportunity to make a dollar and accepted the benefit of it. It is not a creditable act on his part, and it is quite humiliating for us to admit that men in high places will for mercenary purposes stoop to the use of the tricks of brokers; that one occupying such a position as that of Minister to a foreign power should stoop to the vocation of a stock-broker is indeed a shame, and as a cotemporary remarks "The whole affair is to the last degree disgraceful. That a Senator of the United States and an American Minister of the first rank, should put up a job of this kind is something that in the earlier history of the United States would not have been possible; but it is characteristic of the whole Administration since the reign of Grantism began." Yet to bring the whole matter down to its real merit, the whole affair lies in the course of the prevailing intoxication of the spirit of speculation that pervades the world. It is true that the Emma Mine was absolutely worthless, but by manipulation of the stock there was money to be made. General Schenck wanted to make a fortune and he stooped from his high position to dabble in the filthy work of brokerage. The result of the episode is an evidence of the deterioration of the standard of political ethics of our time, and a very unfavorable commentary upon the spirit of the age. Schenck has disgraced himself and the country he represented as well, and his career simply shows that he yielded to the prevailing sentiment of the party he represents. Under the present administration mercenary motive seems to be the rule, and investigations show that reform in every branch of our Government is needed. The necessities of the times demand it, the honor of the nation requires it. In the practice of the representatives of the older nations we find no such acts of malfeasance, but under our present regime the spirit of avaricious plunder seems to rule. Schenck is a victim of this spirit, and he is not alone. Every department is infected with it and the people must see that a change of policy is needed everywhere.

Protect the Immigrants.

Under the above head a valued cotemporary makes the following remarks:—"It is presented to us that the Immigration Bureau established for the purpose of caring for immigrants on their arrival here and pointing out to them the way they should go, is in need of assistance to sustain it in its work. It seems to us it is an institution which should commend itself to the good will of our wealthy men and large land-owners whose interest it should be to attract hither a desirable class of immigrants. There is no place for such persons now to abide temporarily while they are looking about them for a settlement. In New York the immigrant is taken in hand as soon as he arrives and protected from the sharks that infest the boats, cars and landing places, while here the stranger is left completely at the mercy of those cormorants. This should not be, and it is to be hoped our men of means and public spirit will not allow such a state of things to continue forever. If we do not want entirely to repel immigration, let us do something to protect the immigrant until he can protect himself." There is more truth in these remarks than many would suppose; and it is quite time that something was done in the direction indicated. What California needs, and more especially Southern California, is the immigration of a class of settlers who have both the means and the will to contribute to the full development of our resources. Capital is wanted, and labor is needed and both should receive aid for their practical investment. Intelligent labor is the real capital of the State—money furnishes the motive power. It is to the interest of this section that the Bureau should receive aid, in the direction suggested. We have unlimited resources, inviting development, and what is especially required is the proper appreciation of the result. We commend the suggestions of our cotemporary to the consideration of our property holders.

A Vexed Question.

A much vexed question is whether our present State Controller can hold the office for the full term of general MANDEVILLE, who was chosen for four years at the last election. At the death of General MANDEVILLE the Governor appointed Mr. W. R. C. BROWN to fill the vacancy which was done in accordance with the following section of the code:

"SEC. 1001. A vacancy in the office of either the Secretary of State, Controller, Treasurer, Attorney-General, Surveyor-General, State Printer, Clerk of the Supreme Court, or State Harbor Commissioner, elected by the State at large, must be filled by a person appointed by the Governor. At the next general election subsequent to the occurrence of the vacancy, a successor must be elected, who must qualify and enter upon the duties of his office on the first Monday in December next after his election, and who holds his office for the balance of the unexpired term."

Section 1041 of the political code clearly defines the term general election which shows most emphatically that under the State Constitution and legislative enactments Mr. BROWN will hold the office for two years from the election of General MANDEVILLE. This ought to settle the question, although we perceive that some of our cotemporaries take the view that a general election is that at which the President is chosen. From our view of the proposition we are inclined to doubt the assumption, but think from present indications the Supreme court will be called upon to decide the question. The Radicals seem determined to test the question, and claim that a new Controller must be elected next November on the ground that there is then a general election. We do not think they need to trouble themselves for we believe Mr. BROWN to be the popular favorite.

The Presidential Outlook.

NEW YORK, June 2.—The Herald discussing the Presidential question says as the canvass now stands Cukling leads. No prudent party will wish Blaine as a candidate, in view of his transactions with the Pacific Bonds. The only power Blaine can have at Cincinnati is to name the great unknown. The Herald thinks his voice will go for Washburne of Illinois, in which case Washburne will probably be the successful man. The whole vote of the convention is 756; and 379 votes are necessary for a choice, of this it credits Blaine with 300, Morton with 130, Austin with 20, Conkling 27, Hartcraft 58, Hayes 40, Jewell 10, and 12 unknown votes of North Carolina and Florida.

Harney's Testimony.

NEW YORK, June 2d.—The Post's Washington special says Harney's cross-examination before Clymer's investigating committee is very weak touching circumstances which did not effect in the least Harney's District. Clymer's friends are disappointed. The Judiciary Committee met at 10 A. M., but Blaine being still in consultation with his lawyers, the committee adjourned till noon. Fisher and Mulligan will be examined by the real estate pool.

A correspondent at Riverside says: "Our place is full of life, a good many substantial brick buildings are being erected, and we have no doubt that in a few years hence Riverside will be the town of our county. Everybody is setting out trees and beautifying his place generally. We have the right population here to build up a place."

Carmon Barron entered a complaint in Justice Gray's Court yesterday against Wm. Denire, a somewhat notorious character, for extorting money to the amount of $8.50. It seems that the complainant came in by the night train Thursday, and at the depot took a hack driven by Denire, designing to put up at the Lafayette Hotel. The hackman first exacted a payment of $2.50, and when this was paid him, drove his passenger to the thief into the Sisters' Hospital. At this point he threatened to put him out unless more money was forthcoming, and the rascal obtained a further payment of $6. Barron being a total stranger in the city and in feeble health he was entirely at the mercy of the men, whose clutches he fell. Steps should be taken to regulate the hack business of the city so that such outrageous transactions could not occur without swift and heavy punishment following. The officers are looking for the extortioner.

Ask your druggist for Treat's painless Corn Extractor and take no other.

Last evening there was a capital entertainment at Wood's Opera House, and in the entire performance not a shadow of an expression that could offend the most delicate taste.

There was a large attendance that appeared to be well pleased with the presentations. The private or ladies' entrance to the gallery is now completed, and it is the intention of Col. Wood in a very short time to open a system of first-class performances that will please the most fastidious. The Georgians will probably be here soon, and soon after other combinations that will please every class in our community and bear the closest criticism. Col. Wood proposes to make his establishment a first-class place of amusement in every particular, and should receive the full and generous support of the public.

It is said that a party of four stylish young gentlemen of our city, who recently made a ten days' flying excursion up the mountains forgot to take with them that very useful utensil known as a comb. At first they bemoaned their forgetfulness considerably and at odd times sat on the banks of the pearly San Gabriel, drawing their extended fingers through their silken locks, &c. &c. mermaid. Then they tried a piece of a broken girdle which they had along and failing in that, they lost all further ambition and allowed the cockle bars and cacti to accumulate just as they happened to strike. At the present writing there are four gentlemen in town with the latest Summer cut—you couldn't pull their hair with a pair of tweezers.

Dr. Treat's remedies sold by all druggists.

The Fourth of July programme seems to weaken, and if the present symptoms are indicative of anything, it is an absolute failure as to a demonstration. There is an inertness about the matter that shows that our people do not care to spend their money, gas, and gun-powder. The folks about town seem to have taken a different view of the day from that held by John Adams, and do not think that patriotism should be exhibited in annual orations, processions and gun-powder explosions. Our people are adopting the Quaker style of taking these things quietly. We anticipate a quiet Fourth on the centennial anniversary.

Go to-night to Wood's Opera House.

"Willie, dear, where are you going to?" "Wood's Opera House."

The Water Company is working energetically, and has laid its pipes as far as the Fashion stables. The appearance of Main street is not very inviting, but a good work is being done. The eight-inch water pipe now in Main street will not be disturbed, but will be used solely to supply that street. The 22-inch pipe will serve laterally all the other streets, and in this way there will be a great abundance of water always available, not only for general uses but as a protection against fire.

Use Treat's Painless Corn and Wart Extractor, and you will surely find it a luxury.

The ladies of the Episcopal church will give a festival at the rooms lately occupied by the Union Club on the evenings of Thursday and Friday next. Everything that fancy can desire will be for sale and be bestowed upon callers with the grace that is characteristic of the ladies of the society. Every well wisher of the progress of good morals should be in attendance.

Toothache and headache is immediately banished by using Treat's Nerve Killer.

Messrs. Chapman & Hough have added to their new addition some half-dozen elegant bath rooms.

The Fast Train.

The New York Sun has this about the special train: The train started at 1 A. M. Barrett is the bearer of dispatches to General Sherman. He is to remain in California four weeks. The largest Western and Pacific coast mails were dispatched from New York were sent by this special train. The mail embraced 30,000 letters, all stamped with a special die commemorating the occasion. Bets were made against their making the time. The train consists of three cars, a tender and engine. The engine is brand new and it is the largest and most powerful that has ever been put upon the road. It is christened "Governor Tilden," and it is expected to run the train, with the engine, to Pittsburgh, a distance of 440 miles, without a stop. It is said that the mail by this train will reach San Francisco before the Pacific Coast mail from this city which started first ago. On the arrival of the train in San Francisco, the traveling party will be greeted by a Committee of Reception. The passengers number twenty all told. So far as the names have been announced they are: Ben. Russell, Thomas Creamer, Gen. Horace Porter, Milton Easton, of the London Illustrated News, Williams and Henry of the Herald, aid, Weed, formerly editor of the New Orleans Times; Remsen, of the Fifth Avenue Theatre, Lawrence Barrett, Thorne, Bishop, Carpenter, Jarrett, Houghton, H. D. Baker, Alonzo Bliss, for Chicago, Morner and son, Col. Thomas Scott, President, and A. S. Cassat, Vice President of the Pennsylvania Railroad; D. M. Boyd, General Ticket Agent; Frank Thompson, General Manager; Sam. Carpenter, General Passenger Agent; F. W. Jackson, General Superintendent Central Railroad of N. J.; L. F. Booth, of the Chicago and Northwestern Railroad. It was expected that Postmaster General Jewell would be one of the party, but his duties prevented. The whole party met at 12 o'clock at the Herald office, where they were illuminated by calcium lights and treated to the sight of 15,000 Heralds struck off in thirty minutes. A special boat conveyed them to Jersey City, where a further and final demonstration awaited them.

The train reached Omaha at 9:54 A. M. yesterday, and left at 10:05, everything all right.

A dispatch from Cheyenne dated at 10:15 P. M. states that the train had just left, having averaged 45 miles per hour.

From Salt Lake.

SALT LAKE, June 2d.—The report of the Grand Jury who were appointed to examine the books and records of the Salt Lake city corporation is rather startling, and in proportion to the amount of money handled the robbery and corruption which characterized Boss Tweed's reign have been fully equalled in the management of the city funds. Several attempts have been made during the last ten years to examine into the city's affairs, but the city government has been conducted as a close corporation since its organization, by men who are noted for combining Church and State to the greatest extent possible, and have invariably opposed such examination. The report shows that no church property has ever been assessed, although it is a well known fact that the Mormon church owns property estimated to be worth over one million dollars, among which is the property occupied by the Desert News. In the Recorder's office appearances indicate that the Mayor had unlimited power, warrants being drawn and the business conducted generally according to his dictation. In the expense account there is one item of $1,000 for painting the portrait of Brigham Young; also the board bill of Senator at the Townsend House, $90. The bar account shows the profits accruing from the bar conducted by the city. D. H. Wells' account shows that the credit of him was $27,749.33 was a debenture fraud on the tax-payers. In the year 1861, Salt Lake City engaged in the crooked whisky business and items of liquor and refreshments show that the city officials consumed large quantities of Valley Tan, while palming words of wisdom to their followers. In 1862 Brigham Young bought a distillery and carried on business, the city buying from him, paying $4 per gallon. From March, 1864 to August, 1868 there was due to the Government for Revenue tax $80,000, of which one-half only has been paid. The license tax received from liquor dealers from 1871 to 1875 was one hundred and fifty-six thousand seven hundred and sixty dollars no return was made of money paid to any one except Brigham Young one-half of which one-half only has been paid.
